Painting is my inner home, my place for pondering fundamental questions, my opportunity to retreat into a place of silence and rest, where I regain vitality and energy. Through my art I hope and aim to inspire people to follow their own inner journeys.

At an early age I dedicated herself to the art of oil painting. In 1993, I started showing my work at exhibitions in Hamburg and surrounding areas. Since then her work has been shown in numerous places, included in exhibitions from Bornholm/Denmark to Bali/Indonesia.

I describe my style of art as “impressionistic naturalism.” The intended interaction of color as the primary creation and the exactness of several compositions raises the tension of my paintings. □
